HTTP

2019

What is the HTTP Workshop?

- An event for people who implement, use, and evolve the protocol

- Primarily driven by participation and discussion

- NOT a decision-making body

Outcomes

- Better communication in the community

- Insight into what's happening in standards, implementations, and deployments

- Feedback into the standards process

How does it work?

- Three "big" scheduled talks to kick of discussions we know there will be substantial interest in

- A larger number of smaller "conversation starters" sourced from participants, lasting no more than ten minutes, but with discussion afterwards driven by the group

- Lots of social / "hallway" time

Code of Conduct

Our conference is dedicated to providing a harassment-free conference experience for everyone, regardless of gender, gender identity and expression, age, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, body size, race, ethnicity, religion (or lack thereof), or technology choices. We do not tolerate harassment of conference participants in any form. Sexual language and imagery is not appropriate for any conference venue, including talks, workshops, parties, Twitter and other online media. Conference participants violating these rules may be sanctioned or expelled from the conference at the discretion of the conference organisers.

Discretion

✅ Presented talks and information in them

✅ General observations about the workshop

✅ Anything asked to be kept "in the room"

🚫 "Bob said..."

🚫 "FooCorp is working on..."
